

Urban Affairs Association

38th Annual Meeting (April 23-26, 2008)

Baltimore Maryland

Annie E. Casey Foundation Track

The Casey Track will highlight and promote national exchanges on current research and projects aimed at improving the lives of low-income urban families. This goal will be realized through a series of paper panels, colloquy sessions, and breakfast roundtables. Specific topics will include:

Session Topics

- Credit and Debt: An examination of individual asset building in low-income urban neighborhoods
- Responsible Relocation—A Comparative Look
- The Challenge of Family Mobility for Neighborhood Revitalization Initiatives
- The Importance of Resident Engagement and Their Social Networks in the Making Connections Initiative: Learnings and Reflections from the Data
- Responsible Redevelopment: Ensuring that Low-Income Residents Benefit
- Effective Human Service Strategies for Low-Income Urban Families
- Connecting Neighborhood Residents to Economic Opportunities through Urban Redevelopment and the Regional Economy of Baltimore
- Early Childhood Care and Education in Low-Income Neighborhoods: Fitting Supports to Caregivers' Interests and Needs
- Role of Philanthropy in Urban Redevelopment and Neighborhood Revitalization: Experiences, Critique, and Recommendations
- Using Data to Catalyze and Guide Urban Policy and Programs

For further information about the Annie E. Casey Foundation and its ongoing activities, visit the website at <http://www.aecf.org>.